MINES HAVE CLOSED DOWN

All a Mistake About Minerals Existing in Washoe County.

Yesterday all the mines in Oling-house gulch closed down and fifty brawny men marched out of the camp.
They will go to Carson today to work for the Great South African Salesman, who now owns nearly all the real estate and personal property in that modern village.

The stampmills in the gulch quit operations abruptly, no time being wasted in cleaning up.

The Reno Star, U. M. Stator Co. and Smith & Kelly crews have been laid off and the alleged ore from these so-called mines will be used to manufacture the road from the State capitol to the prison.

A courier rode out to Granite Hill, Moop, Dogskin, Peavine and New Jerusalem yesterday. The miners employed in these camps will all be in town this evening. They will also go to Carson, where labor is in demand for demolishing saloons and building churches of the material.

Word has come from Selby's that the smaller people will sue George Wed-kind for the return of $45,000, paid for what they had thought was hundred dollar ore, but has been found to carry nothing but chloride of silver.

The Go Down Mining company, Brown & Higley, Holmesworth & Redman and several others will have similar charges brought against them.

The cases of all these ructions may be found in the following "Harle" period from the Carson News:

"To read the fake stuff in the Reno papers, one would believe that Reno had the greatest mines in Nevada right in her vicinity. As a matter of fact, to say nothing of the well known camps, Silver Star district alone is turning out more gold and other precious metals in a month than Washoe has produced in all the time it has been a county.

"There is not a genuine mine in the vicinity of Reno."

Fabulous Values

From Olinghouse.

The Cabin Extension mine in Oling-house gulch, owned by Doaders, Della Piazzi and Rosasco, is showing most astonishing values. Several weeks ago a seam of clay, carrying free gold, was struck. A horn test was made of it, and the resultant tail weighed at the rate of $21,000 a ton. The streak is being followed and continues to hold its own in size, being nearly an inch wide.

Yesterday H. H. Beck and O. H.
Perry assayed some of the last clay that came out of the tunnel. A little less than an assay ton gave a button as large as a pea. It was parted and found to assay $29,800.

An Ambiguous Sign.

In front of a Reno barber shop is a placard which reads, "Shoes Blacked Inside."

"Goose All Hemlock," remarked Hon.
Lem Allen of Churchill, as he read the sign. "We're a long ways behind the times out on the sink of the Carson.
We black our boots on the outside there every time there's a huckin' bee or spittin' match."

YOUNG GIRL
DISAPPEARS

Suicide of a Friend Said to Be the Cause of Her Rash Act.

For some days there has been a rumor to the effect that a young girl of this city disappeared under peculiar conditions, but no facts were obtainable.

It is now learned that the girl, whose name is suppressed for obvious reasons, dropped out of sight the day after Lieutenant Freeman committed suicide, leaving a note informing her relative that it would be needless to search for her.

She is said to have been a warm friend of the young officer and his tragic death caused her to take this step. No trace of her has been obtained.

The officers are not inclined to believe she committed suicide, but rather that grief and horror caused temporary mental unbalance, and that she is with distant friends.

LITTLE LOCAL
BREVITIES

Items of Street and Town too Brief for Separate Heads.

The JOURNAL is on sale at Harry Davis' store.

A number of ice cutters have come down the river with frosted feet.

The Reno Star shipped another carload of rich ore to the Selby company yesterday.

The Owl proprietors will conduct games in Carson during the session of the legislature.

The paper mill and power plant have been compelled to close down twice, owing to the large quantity of anchor ice in the river.

A number of young people made up a skating party and went out to the reservoir last evening. The ice is now about eight inches thick.

Painful Accident.

Lion Dorsey, an employe of the paper mill, met with a bad mishap yesterday night. His arm got tangled up in one of the driers and he was hurled around at imminent risk of his life until the machinery could be stopped. He may lose the arm.

Meeting Postponed.

Owing to absence of a quorum the annual meeting of the Reno Roadside Cooperators, has been postponed.
Due notice of the date will be sent to all members. By
